

FOR WHICH THE DEMOCRATS ARE RESPONSIBLE

VOL. I. OCTOBER 17, 1905.

POWERLESS TO PREVENT

The Republican party is rapidly drifting into the position of accepting Cuban annexation. They apologize for it. Who would not, considering the selemn pledges given that Cuban independence should not be interfered with? But it is a case of "Barkis is willing" all right all along the line in Republican circles. Below are two quotations from leading Republican journals in two prominent beet-sugar States. They were published within the past two weeks and constitute the latest utterances on Cuban annexation. If Republican journals in beet-sugar States have not any more fight in them than is evidenced by these articles, there is even less to be expected from the Republican party itself. Water cannot rise higher than its source, and the Republican party cannot be expected to put up a fight against Cuban annexation when there is no fight in them on that subject. The Republican party on annexation is like Sheriff Brown-'powerless to prevent".

ted States has assumed the manage-ment of Cuban affairs, it should never let go. To be sure, there seemed no let go. To be sure, there seemed no sufficient reason for intervention, but intervention is a fact. It would have been better, we think, to have let the Cubans alone, to settle their difficulties in their own way, holding the Government there responsible there for whatever occurred.

Rico.

It would be not much more difficult to retain the sovereignty now, for probably the great bulk of material interests in Cuba desire it. Those interests in their own way, holding the Government there responsible there for whatever occurred.

administration.

True, we say that when the Cubans set up the Government that they wish, we will step aside and let that Government rule. We did that before, and should we do it again, it is practically sure that the defeated party was make a war such as the defeated party did this time raise a result and party did this time, raise a revolt and compel another intervention. It will not do for this Nation to play fast and loose with Cuba in this manner. If we are not willing to let her alone to work out her own salva-tion, (which we to not seem disposed to do), then we should assume the severeignty and firmly and permanently control,

The Teller resolution of abjuration

The Only Way with Cuba
We are much inclined to agree with Senator Beveridge that since the United States has assumed the manage-

It is a see-saw game, and this country would have done better to keep out of it. But now that we are in, we should stop the see-saw; and the only way to do that is to remain as muster.

Here is another from the San Fran cisco Chronicle of Oct. 4th:

The United States assures Cuba that it does not desire annexation. The assurance is well received by the Cubans, but they are likely to keep on doing things in such a way that an-nexation will come whether we de-sire it or not. That was settled when the reciprocity program was carried into effect. A jug-handled proposition of the kind which this country had forced upon it could have no other outcome than the one in sight. That The Teller resolution of adjuration forced upon it could have no other as to Cuba was the wildest sentimental folly; it would have been far easier, and in the natural order of designed should happen and it is governts, for us to have retained Cuba openly on the withdrawal of Spain; trary notwithstanding.

Next came the good-natured, rotund Zoo man, who was for the machine— and more of it. With an "who-carea for-expenses" air, he dilated on what the outer districts ought to have, until it became evident that the "gear" had slipped a cog. His invitation, Whatever you want, come to me and

THE INWARDNESS OF CUBAN Iters to give his side a chance to undo INTERVENTION

The true inwardness of American intervention in Cuba is coming to the surface. Senator Beveridge spoke the word in opening the Republican campaign in Chicago on the 22d (Sept.), when he declared that in his opinion when he declared that in his opinion "the progress, even the civilization of the Cuban people can best be realized under the American flag." He intervention in Cuba is coming to the surface. Senator Beveridge spoke the word in opening the Republican campaign in Chicago on the 22d (Sept.), when he declared that in his opinion "the progress, even the civilization of the Cuban people can best be realized under the American flag." He did not add the word "exploitation" to "progress" and "civilization," but that is involved. And this sentiment excited a great outburst of cheering evoked a great outburst of cheering from his Republican auditors. Evidently the late Senator Hanna's dream of violating the American war pledge to the civilized world regarding Cuba. has not been abandoned by his surviross not been abandoned by his survivers. The concealed purpose of the Republican party in going to war with Spain, long ago revealed and frustrated, is being now brazenly reasserted. Its ulterior object may be inferred from the following excerpt from an advertisement of the "Can-ada-Cuba Land and Fruit Company." in a recent issue of the Toronto Globe "If the United States assumes the covernment of Cuba, in six months" time not a foot of fruit land will be sold for less than $200 per acre."

own account, that Col. lankea has only declared that he will not use his position as Sheriff, if elected, to build up a political machine, but will serve all people and all parties alike. This kind of politics is entirely too broad for the Republican machine men, and of course they'll try to decry it.

CASTRO IS NOT A SILVA-TONGUED ORATOR

The Portuguese candidate for Legislative honors on the Republican ticket is a very nice young man by the name of Castro. He wasn't the choice of the Portuguese contingent of the G. O. P., but he got there just the same, so far as the nomination was concerned. But he is too nice a fellow to be septenced to two years in the Legislature, and his erstwhile friends have decided that he shall stay at home. And they think he ought to get married and raise a family before aspiring to a sent in legislative halls. The disappoint ment the situation seems to hold for him enused him to lose his temper somewhat at the Ania meeting last Saturday night, when he said some ugly things about Mr. Silva, his Democratic rival for the same position. But Contro is young. The eastigation he'll get on election day will teach him a le

JOLLY GATHERING WITH LEAD-ING BUSINESS MEN AS THE GUESTS-SPLENDID DEC-ORATIONS-DINNER

"I propose a toast to the Hub of the laion, the greatest Union the world has yet produced, for the most remark-able people and to the greatest Presi-dent of them."

This was Governor Carter's proposal in closing his response to the teast *The President," at the banquet of the Honolulu Stock and Bond Exchange given at the Monna last evening. It was a pithy sentiment well expressed and was greeted with the applause and cheers merited.

This first banquet of the Stock Exchange was spread in the private din-ing rooms of the hotel and for perfection in every detail and good fellow-ship it outshone anything Honeleiu has yet produced. It was certainly sufficient of a success to warrant the Exchange banquet being a yearly affair The management of the hotel was told to go ahead and prepare the best that could be had. Nothing better could be found anywhere. The decorations were most claborate and artistic. Theo Hoffman put some of his electrical ideas working and the result was a tevelation. The calling and walls of the rooms were draped with garlands of maile with lilles and within each flower was an electric bulg. The col-ored lights were used with splendid Walana Acres (Cope effect in the profusion of flowers, pinks, McBryde S. There was originality all along the line and the committee of arrangement, consisting of George Thielen and Harry Lewis, made a record that will never be improved upon. The means were printed on shares of stock in the banquet company, of which Thicken was President and Harry Armitage, Kokus, While the banqueters were busily engaged in the ordinary routine they were interrupted by newsboys bringing copies of a financial Journal prepared for the occasion, which had many gay and effective suggestions as to future Members Hon.
